A single unit of work, in which we might perform multiple actions/operations in it unitWork: issuing ticket to an passenger 1. goto trip table and update available tickets to (tickets-soldTickets)
2. create new tickets by inserting the records into Ticket table all these actions or operations that are carried aspart of the unit of work should be either comitted or rollbacked successfully, is called "Transactions" java

application

database

tables